

Result of the interests' test

The consequence stated as a result of the interests' test is that the interest of the Data processor is more relevant than the interest of the road user belonging to the e-toll system (i.e. the owner /holder of the vehicle with more than 3,5 tons weight) affected in the creation of the statistical data. Therefore the data processing is reasonable with special respect to the following facts: (i) access to the recorded data is allowed only to those colleagues of National Toll Payment Services Plc. who have no right to make connection between such data and a natural person (i.e. requesting data from the vehicle register), (ii) mostly not natural persons are affected by the e-toll system, (iii) the duration of the data processing takes very short time.

The Data Protection Officer agrees with the result of the interests' test. The representative of the data processor is ordering the data processing suggested on the basis of the interests' test.
